Roots to grow and wings to fly

We feel that the early years of schooling are the most important as they set the climate for a lifelong learning journey. So many vital skills and attributes are learnt or developed during the primary stage of a child's life. Our aim is to help a child develop the skills, attitudes and values for their future learning and to help them to be the best they can in all aspects of their life. We believe that parents have a vital role to play to support their children and the school in developing "roots to grow and wings to fly".

We encourage you to:

- Support the moral values and Christian ethos of the school
- Ensure that your child has the best attendance record possible, that you try to avoid holidays during term time and that they are punctual
- Ensure that your child is equipped for school with the correct, named uniform, PE kit and necessary equipment
- Support the school in maintaining your child's good behaviour and discipline
- Ensure your child has a healthy lifestyle and enough sleep to aid learning
- Inform school if there are matters outside of school that are likely to affect your child's performance or behaviour at school
- Promote a positive attitude towards school and learning in general
- Help staff to develop good lines of communication, consult on progress and support your child with the completion of homework and reading tasks
